June 23, 2008 (Walled Lake, MI) – Patriot Services Corporation, a national emergency preparedness and homeland security services provider, announced it was a recipient of the “Above and Beyond Award” from Michigan’s Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve (ESGR), a Department of Defense agency. Thomas Quisenberry, co-founder and Vice President for Patriot Services, received the award in recognition of Patriot Services’ outstanding support of the U.S. National Guard and Reserve.

Patriot Services received the award for going above and beyond the legal requirements for granting leave and providing support for military duty for its employees. Most notably, two of the company’s three top executives serve as active officers in the National Guard. In addition, one of the company’s lead project consultants just returned to the company after serving nine months duty in Iraq.

“We founded our company with a core mission of making our communities safer. Our National Guard members bring incredible dedication to this mission,” says Quisenberry. “Their continued active involvement continues to inspire everyone in our organization to work harder. And the training and skills they bring back are a key part of our continued ability to provide our clients with the very best in emergency response and management.”

Patriot Services Corporation is a national provider of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness services. The company is headquartered in Walled Lake, Michigan with offices in Cincinnati, Ohio and Indianapolis, Indiana. The company has received a number of awards, including being named one of the 2008 Michigan 50 Companies to Watch.
