Southfield, MI – Patriot Services Corporation is proud to announce that the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) has included Patriot Services Corporation as a partner organization for National Preparedness month that occurred in September, 2006.

Patriot Services Corporation was one of 1,150 national, regional, state and local organizations that joined the department to take part in National Preparedness Month.

Scott Hiipakka, Vice President of State, Local, and Health Care Solutions at Patriot Services, said of this effort: "Patriot Services Corporation and our employees are proud to partner with the Department of Homeland Security to increase the readiness of the communities in which we live and work. This is a perfect fit for our Company, as many of our clients are charged with Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness within their communities."

This nationwide effort encourages Americans to prepare for emergencies of all kinds in their homes, businesses, schools and communities. This year, DHS put a particular focus on family emergency preparedness, reminding individuals to make themselves and their loved ones better prepared.

Patriot Services Corporation is a 100% Veteran-Owned Small Business (VOSB) that provides emergency preparedness training and services via its Comprehensive Disaster and Emergency Management Solutions Model (CDEPS) to private and public sector organizations worldwide.
